The Results of Time

Are Reflected in US . . .

Laughingly, Lillian Farmer, finds time to relax while making a dress.

Working on a science project Jamie Culbertson, Kenneth Culbertson, and Randall Dean realize the results difficult to get.

Letters on the typewriter are hard for Danny Howell to find.

Time is something we can use or lose. How it is spent determines our success or failure. A finished product is the result of time wisely employed.

Through Our Accomplishments Failures, Joys And Sorrows

"Look dummy I told you to go to the bathroom before the game started," yelled Coach Sullivan to Gary "Putz" Broadwater.

With much pride the Freshmen place the last finishing touches to their Homecoming float.

Entering the Voice of Democracy contest is an accomplishment of Linda Dockery.

"But teacher, I said, I needed a drink of water," said David Hillman.

Playtime is an essential activity in the lives of Carolyn Dingus, Linda Dockery, Joy Walsh, Debra Hillman, and Patty Flanary.

Getting articles for government is one of Claude Lane's many achievements.

Time finds us in different emotions. Our accomplishments and failures bring us pep and sorrows. Our moods are reflected in the many facets of our character.

Our togetherness & loneliness . . . All of which express our individuality.

Different expressions are seen on the faces of the students such as this of Joe Dixon.

"If you don't let me copy your homework, I'll . . . says Gary Elliot.

Working together as a group we find ourselves united although our personalities differ.

As all of us do, Maxie Finch learns through silence.

Each student has a chance to express his emotions while working on class projects.

HOMECOMING —

Being crowned by our principal, Mr. Reasor, is Homecoming Queen, Teresa Blair.

Twin Springs football Homecoming ceremony at half-time on September 15, was grand finale to a hectic and fun-filled week of preparation. Every class and several clubs were represented with the colorful floats. "Tighten up Titans" which won first place for the Junior High featured a giant-size bolt and wrench.

Before the game the floats with the homecoming candidates were paraded around the football field. During half-time while the Titan band played "Wonderland by Night" the girls were escorted on the field by boys from each of the girl's classes.

Teresa Blair was crowned Homecoming Queen by Mr. Reasor who presented her with a dozen roses.

Surprise shows on the face of Teresa Blair as she is announced Homecoming Queen.

The Climax of a Hectic Week

"Tighten up Titans," the Junior High float won first place. Pictured on the float are Junior High homecoming attendants Patricia Daughtery and Betty Howington.

The Sophomore float which won second place "Hang 'em High." Posing as the Indian is Della Corder along with Sophomore homecoming attendants Teresa White and Judy Frasier.

The Senior float "Sailing to Victory" won third place. Senior homecoming candidates for queen are Alice Sawyer, Teresa Blair, Irana Scott, and Laverne Addington.

Time Brings Defeat . . .

"Huddle"

"O.K. . . . It's third and eleven . . . We can't throw because their backs have knocked everything down we've thrown; but if we don't get a first down we don't have any chance of winning. Their offense is really tough. I though we were supposed to run all over these guys. We're lucky to be as close as we are. That Howell kid can fly and Estep, tackling him is like hitting a wall. Good Grief, I thought they didn't have a team after all those guys quit and then with injuries but they just won't quit. I guess they're all crazy or something don't they know they haven't won one yet. Uh, fullback through two hole . . .

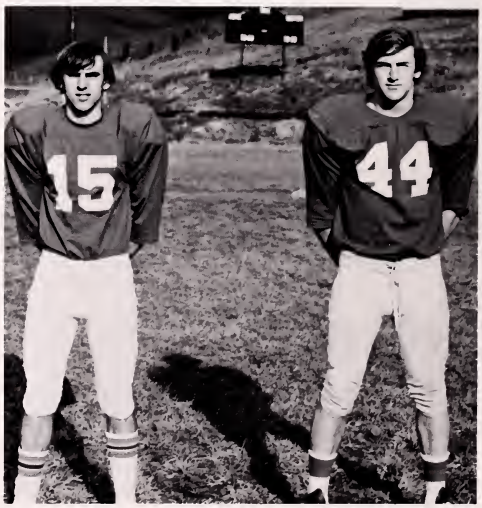
"Wait just a minute. They have a bunch of mountain up front. On that last play that Rose and Ashworth about tore my legs off and Frasier just about KNOCKED my head off."

"O.K., we'll run forty six counter."

"Are you crazy. That's where Jennings is and even with two bad knees he's as good as any tackle in the District."

"How about around the end?"

"Not a chance those ends Ingle and Mann will tear your head off and if they don't get you those deep backs Collins and Keith will ring your bell. Since you've got so much courage why don't you just run it, I want to go home."



CO-CAPTAINS

Sam Collins Clifford Estep

Happiness is being cheered on at a pep rally.

"I'll run a touchdown for a cold glass of 'milk'," says Clifford Estep.

"I think a 28 AAA will do," says Coach Sullivan to Sam Collins as Roger Stableton waits in line.

Yet encompasses the Sting of it.

It was a season of

But I said I didn't want to dance!

Who was that padded man? It was the lone Titan, Johnny Campbell.

"But I know I learned how to tie a bow somewhere," mumbled Doug Rose.

Can you guess whose end this is?

"If you want it, come and get it."

"Now you take that and that and . . . says Clifford Estep.

"Tackle the camera man on 4."

"We've got to stop meeting like this," whispers Roger Stapleton.

Looking anxiously onto the field Mike Keith and Coach Sullivan wonder about the outcome of the play.

Experiences its best season yet

Lets take a look at the 1972-73 Titan Varsity Basketball team. Along with the fine performance of the Titan team was a spirited audience cheering the Titans on to victory from the beginning of a good season to the upsetting semi-finals in regional tournament. The Titans, coached by Jim Short and Mickey Sullivan, had the best season in the history of Twin Springs High School. The 1972-73 Titan team held a season record of 16-7.

Although the Titans had a rough time getting started, they finished in second place position in the district for the first time. Each member of the team is surely proud of the outstanding job that he and his fellow teammates did as they worked together to make their season a success.

Graduation will take away four starters from the Titan team who are Gary Jennings, Sam Collins, Johnny Stallard, and Doug Addington. Although the Titans are losing these experienced players they are expected to come back next year with a strong team. The Senior teammates want to wish them good luck.

Receiving the award as center for the second team in the district is Johnny Stallard.

"Aw Coach, don't take my truck keys, too!" Gary Jennings pleads to Coach Short.

For the boys,

It has often been said that athletics are here to help build better men. Well, if this is true, the boys who began the season as J.V. basketball players soon became men. Throughout the season these young men had to face obstacles that sometimes seemed insurmountable but through hard work, dedication and plain old guts they always came back for more. After one of the best starts in the J.V.'s history, the season suddenly became what seemed to be one bad dream after another. Injuries, illness and bad grades seemed to strike in some fashion week after week just when it seemed that these young men were again getting it all together for another win. These young men deserve much credit for their desire and pride because regardless of the obstacles they had to face they always gave a total team effort and as the old addage goes "It doesn't matter who won or lost, but how you played the game," and these youngsters played it as well as any man possibly could.

"What do you want when you act like that?" demands Ricky Rudder.

J.V. Basketball meant growing up.

"Let's see now, there are 3 lights out on that scoreboard," sighs Coach Sullivan.

Faithfully cheering the Titans on to victory is Phyllis Stewart.

Phyllis Stewart, Captain; Patricia Castle, Patsy Mann, Debbie Anderson, Angie Hillman.

Yelling, clapping, and jumping, the J.V. Cheerleaders faithfully supported their team throughout the season. Their chants could be heard enthusiastically during victories as well as losses.

Thse five girls brought spirit to the J.V. ball players and to the spectators alike.

J.V. Cheerleader Patricia Castle has a high jump for the Titans.

Cheerleading is exactly what it says, being a leader. A cheerleader has to think of the crowd and how she can bring more spirit. She must be proud of the uniform she wears and what she represents.

The five 1972-1973 Titan cheerleaders were proud to wear the "Big Red" uniform. They were glad that they had the opportunity to cheer the Titans on to their victories. Even though the cheerleaders put in much hard work, especially with a long hard week at camp, they were glad of the time they shared with the other girls. Working as a team brought them closer together. They hope that some of the things they did will be remembered fondly over the years. The Titan cheerleaders hope that everyone was "satisfied" with their work.

Moving with Fast Action

With fast-paced action and enthusiastic playing the eighth grade basketball team won four of seven games. The thirteen members of the team made the season a good one. Coach Meade has some kind of magic about him because the boys never lost but one game under him and it was against Gate City. The players were proud when the season was over.

The girls of Twin Springs are fast rising in the sports activities of the school. This year a Girls' Basketball was organized. Five games were played of which three were won. Both games lost were to Gate City. The girls feel that the season was good considering it was their first year.

This is no time to pose Barbara Campbell, just sink it.

Girls' place second despite slow start

Although the Girls' Track team got off to a slow start it was successful. In the county track meet at Gate City the girls got second place with only one point less than Gate City. The girls worked very hard this year to have a track team and are looking forward to next year's season.

Nuck Chewton with the postgame

. . . for WNIC radio and his guest, Coach Micky Sullivan.

"Well, Nuck, this last double header with St. Paul was a typical showing of the Titans baseball ability. Mike Keith pitched four innings of great baseball only to lose in the fifth, on mistakes caused by inexperience."

"Mick, who would you consider the most valuable on your team?"

"Nuck, it would be hard for me to say, but I guess Larry Hicks, our fine young shortstop, would probably head my list. He can do it all. He's a fine fielder, bunt bunter, baserunner, and hitter."

"How about the rest of the squad, Mick?"

"Let me tell you, Nuck, this is the finest bunch of young men I have ever been associated with. They have had to fight rain, cold, short practice sessions plus youth and inexperience this year, but they have never faltered. At the beginning of the year, our hitting was terrible, but as the season progressed, we began to hit the ball, especially Kendall Keith, Dockery, and Hillman. Our fielding is also greatly improved and it kept us in a lot of games, Ed Rudder really worked hard at first, and Danney Summey, our Senior right fielder, and Campbell, our catcher, really worked hard and showed great improvement as did our two freshmen outfielders, Mike Meade and Mike Keith. As for their attitude, you couldn't ask for a better one, and I wouldn't trade them for anybody."

"Well thanks, Coach. And this is Nuck Chewton for WNIC Radio and Titan baseball signing off for another year."

"I've got it," yells Larry Hicks, Outstanding Baseball Player of the Year.

The TSHS Shot Put ranks 6th in the State for '73

As we remember the 1973 track season the first thing that pops in our minds is the mighty shot put. Greg Hillman became sixth in the state for the shot put and also became the topic for most conversations. His efforts at "putting" broke the school record and the Cleveland track record by putting it 48 feet and 5½ inches at the first track meet held at Cleveland. Greg placed third in the regional meet and on May 19, 1973 he captured sixth in the state meet.

As a team the boys did fairly well. They placed fourth at every district meet. During the season those qualifying for regionals were Greg Hillman – shot put, Matt Begley – mile, Clifford Estep – high jump, and Doug Dingus – high hurdles.

Although track season was strenuous Coach Short has a smile for everyone.

Other hard working teammates

"This thing is too heavy," sighs Greg Hillman, but 6th in the state – that's great . . .

Running hurdles, Doug Dingus places third.

After placing second Matt Begley says that mile gets longer.

"This is sure easier than running," Judy Dixon winner of two ribbons in the broad jump and 50-yard dash.

Taking time out from practice are Terry Jennings, Jimmy Daugherty, Paul McConnell and William Taylor.

At Alexandria on June 2 two Twin Springs students placed in the state competition. We are very proud of them since over 2,500 students competed. Judy Dixon placed first in the standing broad jump and received a gold medal. She has a chance to go to California and enter national competition. Joe Dixon placed second in the softball throw.

Getting ready to take off is Joe Dixon winner of one ribbon for the 300-yard dash.

success for Twin Springs

Get ready – Get set – GO . . . David Anderson two ribbon winner for broad jump and softball throw gets ready for the big jump.

Starting off with a smile is Terry Jennings winner of one ribbon for the broad jump.

While Coach Roberts and Joe Dixon study the problem realistically, David Anderson finds his own consolation from above.

Special Olympics is one of the outstanding activities offered for students at TS. It offers a chance for high achievement and the opportunity to excel in the athletic field. It is significant in that it closes the gap in the athletic field between our school sports and these students who are also interested in the athletic field. It is just one more facet in which our school offers a chance for EVERY student to excel and reach high achievement.

Several students participated in the District Special Olympics at Marion on May 5. They were among 359 participants from this area.

Those participating from TS were Judy Dixon who entered the broad jump and 50-yard dash and won two ribbons; Joe Dixon 300-yard dash and one ribbon; Terry Jennings broad jump and one ribbon; David Anderson broad jump and softball throw, two ribbons; Jimmy Daugherty 50-yard dash and broad jump two ribbons; Paul McConnell basketball game 300-yard dash and broad jump; William Taylor basketball game, 300-yard dash, broad jump, and softball throw.

The students who won ribbons went to Alexandria, Va. on June 2 to compete at the state level.

Student Body Selects Mr. and Miss TSHS

"Hey Barbara, look how my hands are shaking," exlaims Jerry.

"Happiness is singing a lullaby for Jerry," says Barbara.

Get up off your knees Jerry, I am not ready to accept a proposal.

Enthusiastic faces, friendly smiles, interest in our school activities – all these qualities in the students of Twin Springs High make our school an exciting place to be.

Jerry Salyers and Barbara Flanary have shown themselves to have the true Titan spirit by their enthusiasm and interest in our school activities.

They were chosen by the student body as Mr. and Miss Twin Springs High. Their character and dedication has made the title well earned.

SCA — The Voice of the Students

Trying to promote better relationship between the student and faculty, the Student Co-operative Association spent a fruitful year.

The election of new officers was held at the beginning of the year. The SCA sponsored the first dance of the season and held an assembly at the President's declaration of "National SCA Week."

Later in the year a jukebox was installed in the cafeteria for the students' enjoyment. Pay phones were also installed in the halls for student use.

The Student Co-operative Association is the "voice" of the students and is composed of every student in the school with representatives chosen from each class and officers elected by the student body.

One of the most hard working clubs of our school is the annual staff. Members of the annual staff have a year of writing copy, drawing layouts, taking pictures, and running errands. They struggle to meet future deadlines or past ones as the case often is.

The ultimate goal of each member of the staff is to produce in a book memories of the school year.

Annual work is a hard task – so is sponsoring it, but Mrs. Culbertson and Mrs. Garrett find time to laugh.

Sometimes even our best effort is not good enough. But still we try. Facing the almost insurmountable obstacles of lack of funds, of time, of equipment, of enthusiasm, of support. THE TITANIC has been forced to slow its efforts practically to a standstill. Despite the paper's change to a new format which offered a TITANIC page combined with a local daily paper, a change which brought a timely and dynamic aspect to the school paper, the school responded underwhelmingly. Criticism and complaints were rampant. And, although the spirit of the staff was badly beaten it was not broken, and the staff still tries.

The capable and very dedicated hands of its editor, Mary Nell Culbertson, THE TITANIC has been able to publish a few issues during the school year, although Mary Nell had to beg, plead, strain, threaten, and cajole to do it. The publication of a school newspaper is never an easy job, and the publication of THE TITANIC is no exception. A less dedicated person than Mary Nell probably would have given up in despair long before the end of the year, but her steadfastness and desire to put out the paper have remained with her.

Even though THE TITANIC has been forced to sail through an unsettled, turbulent sea of troubles, it has managed to hang together, still trying and still hoping for a calmer, brighter day.

An Eventful Year

The Forensic Club has had a busy and eventful year. Annual elections gave the presidency to Randy Byington with Irana Scott as vice-president, Kathy Marshall as secretary and Teresa Blair as treasurer.

Twin Springs was well represented in the yearly forensic competition. Several of our students competed in district forensic competition at St. Paul: Irana Scott – Girl's Prose; Randy Byington – Boy's Prose; Joy Walsh – Girl's Poetry; Tommy Moore – Boy's Poetry; Teresa Blair – Original Oratory; Patty Flanary – Extemporaneous Speaking; Kathy Marshall – Spelling. Of the above students, Irana Scott, Teresa Blair, and Kathy Marshall went on to compete in the Regional contest.

We had only calmed down from one excitement to be faced with another – the one-act play. Here we ran into trouble. We were scheduled to enter the Forensic one-act play competition at Castlewood with a drama – "No Greater Love." Tryouts were held and parts were won by Robert Penley, Angela Elliott, Tommy Moore, Teresa Blair, and Joyce Starnes. The play was given for the students here at Twin Springs – then disaster struck! Tommy Moore's accident prevented entering the play at Castlewood.

Resulted for Forensics

"What do you think would have happened to you and your smug little existence if your mother had said she didn't care," questions Uncle Les.

"No Greater Love" the Forensic play presented to the student was a moving story of simple mining people. It involved a young man from the town who had gone to the city to become a doctor. After returning home, he reveals that he is going to stay in the city to practice medicine instead of staying in his small mountain town where a doctor is needed. The disappointments of his family are great. Why he eventually decides to stay where he is needed is told in the dramatic climax of the play.

The cast included Grandmother Cain played by Angela Elliott; Doctor Jimmy Cain played by Tommy Moore; Judith Cain, his mother, played by Teresa Blair; Uncle Les Cain, her brother-in-law played by Robert Penley; and Helen Johnson, a neighbor played by Joyce Starnes.

"I though Jimmy would come to see Mother . . . even if he didn't come to see me."

"Now be careful with those shavings, Les. We spent all day house cleaning for Jimmy's homecoming."

"Oh Jimmy," pleads Helen, "Mother may be dying, please come quickly."

Hi-Y Maintains High Standards of Character

The Hi-Y Club is a religious organization. This year the Twin Springs Hi-Y Club was unable to go to their district meeting so they attended another district meeting at Lebanon in October. At Christmas time, the club presented a Christmas play to Dungannon and Nickelsville Elementary schools and also to Twin Springs. This year the club has 48 members. The Hi-Y Club always sends some members to Leadership Training Program at Massanetta Springs Assembly at Harrisonburg, Virginia. Last August Walter Rose and Greg Hillman attended the training program. The projects the club undertook this year were to send a contribution to the World Missions Service and another project was to sell candy at basketball games.

The French Club consists of students taking French who are interested in speaking the language and learning the French customs.

This year the French Club built a homecoming float entitled "L'Arc de Triomphe," It was a replica of the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

At Christmas the club had a party at Mrs. Theresa Bledsoe's home, the club's sponsor.

Promoting Interest in Science

The Science Club is an organization of students who are enrolled in a science course. A student must have good grades in the science subject to be eligible to join. The Science Club promotes interest in science and related subjects by giving the students a chance to work on projects. Members may exhibit science projects in the Science Club, which is held in the spring.

Models, Money and Success for Math Club

President, Debra Minton; Vice-President, Diane Marshall; Secretary-Treasurer, Brenda Gillenwater, Reporter, Eddie Rudder. Sponsors: Mrs. Jenniwood Reasor, Mrs. Treva Buchanan, and Mr. Steve Blackson.

The Math Club was organized to promote mathematical knowledge and its ever growing importance in our society today. Our first fund-raising project was a great success. We had 11 "gorgeous men" modeling the latest women's fashions. Our funds were used to go to the Westmoreland Computer Center at Big Stone Gap and to Clinch Valley College.

4-Hers sponsor "Share the Fun"

President, Gay Skeens; Vice-President, Charlotte Salyer; Secretary-Treasurer, Myra Combs; Reporter, Robin Vicars; Sponsor, Miss Carter.

For the members of the 4-H Club 1973 was a busy year. Each participant chose a project to work on during the year. The projects included public speaking and dress reviews or various individual projects that each 4-Her chose.

Some of the members entered the Share-the-Fun contest which was held at our school in March. Carl Price and Mark Repass captured first place in the county contest and entered the district contest.

Deeply inspired by the music, Lula Hammonds dances with joy.

Singing their hearts on to victory in the Share-the-Fun contest are Mark Repass and Carl Price.

FFA — Rewarding Year

Gary Jennings, President; Howard Broadwater, Vice-President; Lynn Gillenwater, Secretary; Kenneth Burke, Treasurer; Ronald Dean, Reporter; Ronnie Babb, sentinel.

This year's work for the FFA boys has been helpful to those in the community as well as educational to themselves. They have made projects for neighbors in the surrounding communities, including the grease rack located on the school premises. They have been busy making furniture for the office, planting trees around the school, and growing their tobacco crop.

The FFA organization sent Mr. Mays, Gary Dockery, and Jackie Steffey to an environmental educational work shop at Townsend, Tennessee, in the Smoky Mountains.

Along with the advisor, Mr. Mays, Timmy Hall, Greg Hillman, and Glenn Salyer represented the Chapter at Blacksburg, Virginia, during the State FFA Convention and Livestock Judging Contest.

This year has been a profitable one for the FFA boys.

Mr. Mays and the FFA boys show off their new office furniture.

TSHS Receives Double Honor

With the coming of the Jr. Miss Tenneva pageant, students wondered if Twin Springs would continue to keep up its tradition of beauty contest winners. On August 3, 1972, the students hopes were fulfilled. With grace and beauty, LaVerne Addington made us all proud as she received the title of JR. MISS TENNEVA.

But this was not all. Students were doubly excited and pleased when Kay Mathes also received the MISS CONGENIALITY Award.

Eight other contestants from Twin Springs were Rita Davidson, Teresa Blair, Brenda Carter, Maggie Sweeney, Linda Dockery, Anita Addington, Barbara Flanary, and Kathy Perry.

Our PTA has been a hard working organization. They have had a busy year raising money to help benefit the school. This year they bought new Varsity basketball uniforms.

Every year the PTA sponsors the Fall Festival, a money-making project in which the students raise money for the organization.

This money helped to buy audio equipment for the English Department.

The officers of the PTA are President, Jack Jennings; First Vice-President, Mildred Hillman; Second Vice-President, Nancy Salyer; Secretary, Beth Culbertson; Treasurer, Doris Keith.

Giving advice to inccoming president, Edith Castle, is Jack Jennings, out going president.

Training for future jobs

VICA is a club established in all vocational schools found in Virginia.

Each school has a slate of officers who are the school's government. This year at Scott County Vocational School the officers are as follows; President; Johnny Bowen, Vice-President; Phil Henry, Secretary; Mary Lou Lucas, Treasurer; Diane Quillen, Parliamentarian; Ronnie Hughes.

Each class elects a class representative who represents the class at all the VICA meetings, and who sends reports back to the class of all the activities that have taken place at the meetings.

The VICA colors are red, white, blue, and gold which represents the people, the clubs, and the different states of the United States.

CHORUS MEMBERS

The chorus this year has learned many new songs, but in addition they have spent much time in studying musical notation and terminology. They also studied different musical works and composers. The class has been a combination of singing, music history, and music theory.

The chorus sang for a PTA program last fall. Then they presented a special Christmas program at the elementary and high school along with the band and Hi-Y. They presented a Spring concert at the elementary schools as well as here at Twin Springs.

"All right you get over there," shouts Mrs. Tilley.

As Kathy Ramey keeps in time with the music, the other students just goof off.

MAJORETTES: Shelia Smith, Barbara Salyer – Captain, Linda Dockery, and Myra Combs.

Starting practice in August, the Royal Titan Band spent a successful and rewarding year. Helping boost the "Titan" spirit, the band played at pep rallies, all home games, and traveled to some of the away games, presenting halftime shows for everyone's enjoyment.

The Royal Titan Band was heard proudly in the Homecoming parade in Nickelsville and Dungannon and in tobacco festivals held at Abingdon and Pennington Gap.

At Christmas time the band traveled to Kingsport, St. Paul, Big Stone, Gate City, and Nickelsville to perform in parades. They also performed a Christmas concert along with the Hi-Y and Chorus at the area elementary and high school.

During the year the band played for a special PTA meeting, and WGAT's Heart-O-Rama.

In the spring the Royal Titan Band was once again heard when they gave a rock concert at the area elementary and high school and played for the home baseball games.

FACULTY

Our Administration

In the fall of 1967 the ship TWIN SPRINGS set sail for its maiden voyage. Its crew and officers had been assembled from smaller ships which had now been dry docked. At the helm of the ship was the captain, an experienced school administrator. During the first trips of the ship, things went rather smoothly with only an occasional storm. Then as the crew became more accustomed to the ship, they became occasionally dissatisfied. Long lines discouraged them, educational practices oppressed them, discipline irritated them. The captain had to step in and calm the crew. Sometimes he had to take a mutinous student to his quarters and make him walk the plank to see the error of his ways. Yet the captain did this, not in anger, but with a firm belief that, just as he was to guide the entire ship on the best course, he was to help guide each individual student on his way to his ultimate destination in life.

The TWIN SPRINGS has sailed for five years now. It has weathered some storms, survived treacherous seas, and calmed some turbulent waters. And all this time, the ship has been captained by an able, experienced, and dedicated man who wants TWIN SPRINGS to be sailing ever onward. This man is Mr. James Fugate Reasor.

"Now you'll have to learn to be a good little girl, Sandra," said Mr. Blackwell, "or I'll have to expel you again."

HORACE BLACKWELL
Assistant Principal

Our assistant principal, Mr. Horace Blackwell, played an active role in keeping the school running smoothly.

Besides teaching a geography class and being a study hall teacher, Mr. Blackwell was responsible for taking care of the admittance slips which allowed the students to enter class.

By taking a sincere interest in the students and activities of our school, Mr. Blackwell has remained a constant source of encouragement to Twin Springs.

Students, Tom and Mary Nell Culbertson, find Mrs. Dixon a helpful advisor.

Mrs. Anne Dixon is kept busy advising and helping students as guidance counselor at Twin Springs.

Not only does she give students potential tests, but she spends each day filling out references to colleges and employment offices, and listening to someone's problems.

Mrs. Dixon assists the students in their schedules for the next academic year.

Taking time to work on student registration is one of Mrs. Dixon's many tasks.

Filling our stomachs, cleaning up, and Working behind the scenes the cooks are the one who filled our empty and often growling stomachs. They provided us with wholesome, nutritional meals. Although we didn't see them much they were the subject of daily conversation because we'd always hear during the day, "What's for lunch?"

Rolls, Rolls, Rolls! Our cooks, Mrs. Jo Ann Jennings, Manager; Mrs. Ora Castle; Mrs. Sally Renfro; Mrs. Ruth Dockery have a great joy in preparing them.

Bruce Williams, Custodian

As we enter the halls each morning, we are faced with a clean building. It practically shines. Can you imagine keeping house for over 300 people. Day after day the routine is almost the same. Our custodians have really earned their pay. Their efforts show through our sparkling halls and rooms. We are proud to say that in five years our school still looks new. We know a lot of this is due to the hard work of our custodians. More appreciation is due them than we can express.

The eighth graders may be only beginners at Twin Springs but they have been very active in clubs, sports, and other activities. They started the year off right by having the winning float in the homecoming parade – the theme was "Tighten up Titans." The class also sponsored several comedy skits for the Fall Festival. These skits were also given for the student body. The eighth graders went all out to raise money for Fall Festival King and Queen. The girls sold cookies, candies, and cakes. The boys played several ball games and everyone sold chances on everything from stuffed animals to pole lamps.

The Eighth grade girls are planning a dance routine in the "Share the Fun Contest." The eighth graders have proven themselves to be worthy of the Titan name.

The Freshmen Class has played an active and important role during the school year.

Usually associated with the words insecure and shy, these Freshmen have proven to be capable leaders of Twin Springs.

During the school year the class presented the student body with a comedy entitled "The Third Plate" involving a young married couple and their intruding inlaws.

Several Freshmen boys have played a significant role in the athletic program at Twin Springs.

Cheering the J.V. team on were three Freshmen girls, Debbie Anderson, Patricia Casell, and Angie Hillman.

JUNIORS

President, Agnes Estep; Vice-President, Judy Meade; Secretary-Treasurer, Janice Stallard; Reporter, Danny Howell. Sponsors; Jeanette Taylor, Mrs. Theresa Bledsoe, and Thomas Osborne.

The Junior year in high school is a special time of achievement, academically, emotionally, and socially. It is a year full of high hopes for that "last year" that is their special year.

A highly talented group in all phases of life makes up the Juniors of '73. They have excelled in the field of sports, academics, beauty contests, and personal character.

This year, the Juniors began their year with a magazine drive to earn money for the ultimate goal of financing the Junior-Senior Prom. Along with the magazine drive, the class has shown an exceptionally high interest in the production of the class play, "Miss Dill from Dippyville."

Junior class officers are representatives of the talent and hard-workers in the Junior class.

For the Junior class of '73, their year ended with the presentation of the class play, sponsorship of the Junior-Senior Prom, and last but not least ordering their class rings.

Most Juniors are looking forward to their Senior year, but many feel some regret at leaving such an exciting year behind them.

Excitement filled the air as the Junior-Senior Prom got underway on Friday May 4. The theme of the Prom was "Pieces of April." Music was provided by The Roanoke band. SENIORS

This is Twin Springs High School. This is the class of '73. It is truly Twin Springs High School, the first group to have attended high school here for all of their five years.

The feeling of really and at last being a senior came early for the class of '73. Building a float brought a feeling of unity to the whole class.

Football season was in full swing and the seniors with Clifford Estep, Gary Jennings, Sam Collins, Doug Rose, Jim Compton, and Ronnie Mann were an integral part of the team.

The senior cheerleaders, Barbara Flanary, Irana Scott, Connie Nickels, and Rita Davidson helped provide pep for the Titan fans in football as well as basketball.

Outside of sports other seniors excelled. The class play "Mistress of Mellyn," different from the usual play, caused several production problems but they were resolved and the show went on .... successfully.

Senior class members Joy Walsh, Irana Scott, Teresa Blair, and Patty Flanary entered the district forensic meet. Irana Scott and Teresa Blair later competed in the regional meet.

Then in spring, the seniors fancies turn lightly to thoughts of the prom and graduation.

This was the class of '73. Their best is yet to be.

My pulse beat fast – my throat was dry – I felt feverish – I knew then that – that I was in love.

On November 20 the Senior class presented "Mistress of Mellyn." This three-act mystery, broke the tradition of class plays which before were comedies.

The play which left the audience breathless, started with a mysterious train wreck followed by a chain of spine-chilling happenings. All of the events led up to a shocking climax.

Characters include: Connan Tremellyn, Glen Broadwater; Alvean, Connie Nickels; Martha Leigh, Irana Scott; Peter Nansellock, Danney Summey; Celestine Nansellock, Joy Walsh; Lady Treslyn, LaVerne Addington; Gillyflower, Teresa Blair; Kitty, Brenda Dean.

Don't be angry with Miss Leigh, Con. I asked her to dance with me.

I hope you're not setting yourself above the Good Book, Miss.

Dancing by moonlight! Sheer madness . . .

Present Twin Springs' First Mystery

Sitting patiently, Joy Walsh prepares to be made up by Teresa Blair.

Having no mistress in the house makes serving a bit of a trial sometimes.

Keep the eyes closed and the mouth open, Irana, as Miss Stallard slaps on the make-up.

Awaiting her fate, Brenda Dean sits while Teresa Blair begins on her make-up.

With her "glamour" face on, Patty Flanary starts transforming LaVerne Addington.

Class Day

Class day arrived on May 24 and the 73 Seniors of '73 filed into the auditorium to give their program. Teresa Blair presided over the program. The welcoming address was given by Salutatorian, Irana Scott. The president's address was given by Rita Davidson. The class history followed, given by Connie Nickels. The class Prophesy was given by Carolyn Dingus and the class Will was given by Johnny Stallard. Then Mary Nell Culbertson, gave the farewell address. Gifts were then presented to each of the Seniors by Joy Walsh, Giftorian. After the Seniors received their gifts the program was then turned over to Mr. Reasor for the presentation of awards. Those receiving awards were as follows; ENGLISH; Mary Nell Culbertson, ART; Greg Hillman, SOCIAL SCIENCE; Ronnie Honeycutt, SCIENCE; Irana Scott, BUSINESS; Sandra Noel, YEARBOOK; Editor, Joy Walsh; Business Manager, Irana Scott; Photographer, Brenda Dean; Staff, Patsy Trent. CHEERLEADERS; Irana Scott, Barbara Flanary, Connie Nickels, Rita Davidson. BAND; Linda Dockery, Allen Addington. ALL REGIONAL BAND; Patricia Gillenwater; CHORUS, Alice Sawyer; MATHEMATICS, Irana Scott; AGRICULTURE, Glen Salyer; Timmy Hall, ATTENDANCE AWARDS; 5 yrs. Jenny Sanders, Patsy Trent; 12 yrs. Glen Broadwater, GEOGRAPHY; Dwight Pierson, FORENSICS; Irana Scott, Kathy Marshall; SALUTATORIAN; Irana Scott, VALEDICTORIAN; Mary Nell Culbertson; CIVITAN CITIZENSHIP; Darrell Meade; SPEECH; Joy Walsh; JOURNALISM; Newspaper Editor, Mary Nell Culbertson, QUILL AND SCROLL; Joy Walsh, Carolyn Dingus, Teresa Blair, Patsy Trent, Debra Hillman, Maxie Finch, Brenda Dean, Patty Flanary, Randy Byington, Irana Scott, Mary Nell Culbertson; LIBRARY; Teresa Anderson; HOME ECONOMICS; Crisco Award, Alice White; Betty Crocker, Carolyn Dingus; Chapter Degrees, Rita Davidson, Patsy Trent, Phyllis Stewart, Alice White; Staff Homemaker Degree, Mary Nell Culbertson; Jr. Degrees, Bonnie White, Callie Moore, Glenna Owens, Lisa Hillman, Teresa White, Coleen Hartsock, Jan Walsh; ATHLETICS; Girls' Athletics; Barbara Campbell; Athlete of the Year, Gary Jennings; Mr. Hustle in Basketball, Sammy Collins; Mr. Offense in Basketball, Johnny Stallard, Randall Dingus; Best Offense in Football, Danny Howell; Best Back in Football, Clifford Estep; Best Lineman in Football, Jeff Culbertson.

Barbara Flanary receives her cheerleader award.

Receiving the art award from Mrs. Bledsoe is Greg Hillman.

recognizing Senior and award winners

Receiving the Agriculture award is Glen Salyers.

A smiling Matt Begley receives his letter in track.

Happily Dwight Pierson receives the Social Studies award.

For 5 yrs. Jenny Sanders has not missed a day of school and Mrs. Dixon presents her with a perfect attendance award.

Clifford Estep gives a grin as he receives the Best Lineman in Football award.

Since she is the best speller in he school, Kathy Marshall receives the Spelling award from Miss Taylor.

Tomorrow's politicians get smart today

Would you believe Glen Broadwater thinks he will be a future congressman of Virginia, but everyone knows Darrell Meade has the brains for it.

Boys' State and Girls' State is a program designed to familiarize students with the government of Virginia. Those who attended had a hectic week filled with speeches, elections, sports, and other activities. Each Boy Stater and Girl Stater became a member of a city in which they were either elected or appointed to an office.

The cities elected one Senator and two Delegates to attend the General Assembly. There was also a convention held to elect Governor, Lt. Governor, and Attorney General.

Boys' State was held at William and Mary College from June 18-26 and Girls' State was at Radford College from June 11-17. The Representatives from our high school were sponsored by the Twin Springs P.T.A.

It's kind of hard to imagine Irana Scott and Joy Walsh taking part in our government.

The best is yet to be

On May 31, the Seniors of 1973 took a giant step in their lives. Many emotions were felt as the 73 Seniors faced their last few moments of being a part of Twin Springs High School. There was some laughter, many tears, and even a yell or two as the Seniors of '73 became graduates.

The Class of 1973 was a special class. It was the first class to have completed all five years at Twin Springs High.

During their five years at TSHS the members of the Class of '73 have faced many situations – some good, some bad. Through it all, the Class of '73 survived. They have laughed, cried and sighed, together. They took the good and rejoiced. When the bad came, they held their heads high. But more than this they stood together and did it their way.

"But I don't want to graduate!"

"Ya like this tie?" Kenneth Holbrook asks Linda Culbertson who seems anything but enthusiastic about it all.

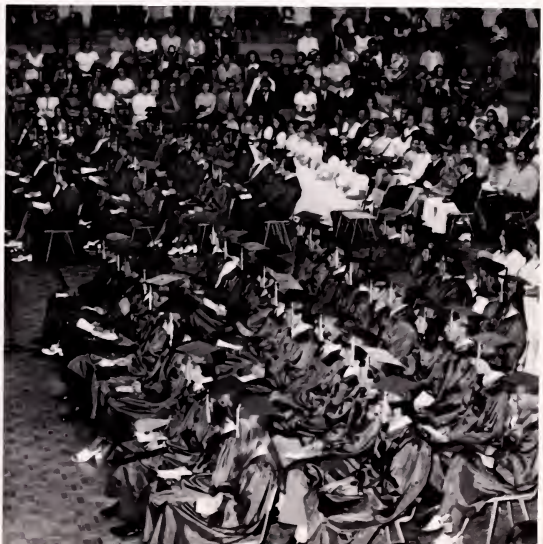
Ready or n

For the Class of '73!

"Are you sure it's straight?" asks Ronnie Mann to Deborah Gillenwater.

"Now don't get me tickled, honey, or I'll never get it on right; giggles Mary Nell Culbertson to hubby, Tom.

here we come!!



Wow! Is it really us?

The End is near and we remember

After a busy evening of work, the annual staff prepares to go home.

Time is a series of beginnings and endings

Time has brought us to the close of another year, a year filled with laughter, tears, and uncertainty.

As we passed through time we grew just a little wiser. Each experience we encountered whether good or bad, helped us to become a more complete person. For us, as seniors each day brought us closer to the future as graduates of TSHS.

Now the future is here and we are a part of it. Passing through our years at TSHS, we gathered memories which will remain precious to us through our lives.

We came to TSHS stepping anxiously into the future and so shall we leave it.

Speaking on behalf of the Mountain Echo Staff, I would like to express my appreciation to the faculty and students for all the help they have given us.

My extended gratitude goes to Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Culbertson, whose patience and direction made this annual fun to produce, even through trying times.

Trying times with the annual brings tears to the editor's eyes.
